  - The 7 November textile factory is located on Strada Dudesti Number 188. Bucharest. The factory makes clothing for the Rumanian Army, Militia, and workers. It has about five thousand employees.
  - 2. Cotton for the factory is imported from the Soviet Union. Approximately twenty tons of twist is produced every 24 hours, and the factory is presently working three eight hour shifts a day. Four to five three-ton trucks fully loaded with ready made linen leave the factory daily to be distributed among the cooperatives.
  - The source of power for the factory has been coming from the central power station in Bucharest. It is planned to construct a power station within the factory.
  - The factory has its own fire brigade service taken from workers specially trained for that purpose.
  - The generators of the factory were removed by the Soviets when they entered Rumania in 1945.
  - Ionel Baltazar, a 45 year old Jewish Communist, is director of the 7 November textile factory.
  - Militia guards have been placed in the factory since August 1950.
